

Kirsten Turner &lt;membersupport@chja.org&gt;

---

Fwd: Measurement Lost in the Lava carolomeara@aol.com <carolomeara@aol.com>

---

Mon, Sep 1, 2025 at 2:20 PM

Reply-To: carolomeara@aol.com

To: membersupport@chja.org

Kirsten-

FYI. Apparently someone somewhere reported that Lost in the Lava was 14-3 and not a pony Roland is certain that Lost in the Lava is in fact a Large Pony. Please correct the records and award applicable points. The pony did not show in the ponies at Summerfest.

Thanks,
Carol

I measured this animal at the Fun in the Sun Show at Fox Hill on July 7, 2024. At that time and at that show he was 14h 1". I assume that he was a bit frisky at the time. I measured him again at the Gold Crest Summerfest Show at the request of the owners and show management and found him at 14h 3/8 ". I feel that the 14h 3" measurement must have been a recording error somewhere. The animal is genuinely a Large Pony. I understand that his points at the Meridian Show earlier this summer were denied due to this misunderstanding. What can I do to help rectify this error?

Thank,
Roland Connors
4064084